Liberal Labor Lies: Election Countdown

October 18 2004

Every day between now and the election, a new liberal labor lie will be exposed. On election day, ordinary workers can make a choice. They can support pro-union positions that don't represent their values or their interests, or they can vote in favor of worker freedom.

Liberal Labor Lie of the Day: John Edwards says that a Kerry-Edwards administration would pay for their expensive government health care plan in part by getting rid of 100,000 government contractors.

FACT: According to a March 2004 report from the Office of Management and Budget, for every government job that is open to competition from contractors, $12000 is saved for the taxpayers. If the private sector isn't doing the job, government bureaucrats will—and that costs workers money.

Therefore, the Kerry-Edwards bureaucrat-growth scheme will cost taxpayers $1.2 billion, not save money as they claim. When this "savings" ends up costing more money, American workers will be on the line to pick up the tab.
